

To use Alltunes music download.

Go to www.alltunes.com , download and install the alltunes program.

Run the program and on first running it will download the catalog.

Click “Login”

You will be presented with the login screen:

To set up an account click on the “Register new user...”

Go through the new user account screens: you will need an email address and a credit card on which you can pay for your first credit (the amounts are in dollars like the prices of the tracks but the money is taken using the exchange rate in force at the time of transfer).

Next time you login you can get it to save the login details and you do not need to keep logging in (unless you want to).

Happy downloading...
